If you feel you are being harassed, bullied or otherwise discriminated against by someone associated with YORLMC Ltd, or you are aware of others being subjected to such treatment, we strongly encourage you to raise this with us.

You may wish to consider first whether you feel able to address the problem informally with the person responsible. If so, you should explain clearly to them that their behaviour is not welcome or makes you uncomfortable.

However, if this is difficult, embarrassing, or uncomfortable, employees of YORLMC are encouraged to speak to their line manager. LMC Members are encouraged to speak to their LMC Chair, or YORLMC's Medical Secretary who can provide confidential advice and assistance. They can be contacted via the Corporate Affairs Team

If informal steps are not appropriate, or have not been successful, the matter can be escalated and formally presented as a complaint in writing to the Chief Executive. Their contact details are available here

You can be assured, that such complaints will be investigated in a timely and confidential manner. Where possible, the investigation will be conducted by someone with appropriate experience and no prior involvement in the situation. Details of the investigation, your name and the name of the other party named in the complaint will only be disclosed on a "need to know" basis (which may include enabling the other party to properly to answer the complaint). We will of course, consider with care whether any steps are necessary to manage the ongoing relationship between you and the other party during the period of any investigation.

Once an investigation is complete you will be informed of its outcome. If it is found that you have been harassed, bullied or otherwise discriminated against by a Member, Officer or employee of YORLMC the matter will be dealt with under the Disciplinary Procedure. If the harasser, bully or discriminator is a third party, we will consider what action would be appropriate to deal with the problem.

Whether or not your complaint is upheld, we will consider how best to manage any ongoing relationship between you and the other party concerned.

YORLMC recognises that certain treatment of or by particular individuals is unlawful. Further information of the legal definition of such treatment is available from Shanee Baker, LMC Law

For the purpose of this policy, you are encouraged to raise all concerns you may have relating to any unwanted, inappropriate or improper conduct of which you are aware. It is imperative to us that we know about these matters so they should properly be addressed, regardless of whether or not legal protections and liabilities are triggered. We want anyone with concerns to come forward and anyone, who in good faith makes complaints or participates in any investigation, must not suffer any form or retaliation or victimisation as a result.
