Experienced GP in the NHS and Australian private practice

I am an enthusiastic and conscientious doctor who can quickly adapt and integrate into new teams. I practise in a friendly and approachable manner. I enjoy seeing all patients and have a particular interest in dermatology, mental health, and children's and women's health. I always strive to give my best clinical care by keeping up to date with evidence-based practice, participating in appraisal and revalidation, as well as reflecting on my clinical work.
