

Video Group Clinics: a virtual way to create time to care

HOW VGCs WILL HELP YOU IMPROVE CARE

- Kick-start and maintain routine care
- Support high risk groups to self manage and make lifestyle change e.g. people with Type 2 Diabetes
- Overcome loneliness and anxiety; build community and resilience by connecting your patients
- Make better use of clinician time
- Support retention and flexible working from home
- Future-proof your practice

NHS England and Improvement is supporting the spread of video group clinics (VGCs) in primary care. VGCs enable clinicians to undertake clinical reviews in a supportive, virtual group setting. As well as increasing clinician efficiency, VGCs will help overcome the damaging loneliness amongst people with chronic health issues who are shielding or self-isolating is creating. Free training is coming soon.
